ALL NOW READY FOR THE PARADE

Rally of Sunday Schools Tomorrow in Interest of Scriptural Study

CARRY BIBLE IN HAND

Schools Will Have Distinctive Colors, and Banners, Suitable Texts and Mottoes.

A fair afternoon tomorrow is all that is needed to make the Sunday school rally and demonstration a great success. The raliy is in the interest of Bible study ,and each school connected with the Alexandria Sunday School Association will represent one of the groups of books into which The Bible may be divided.

Each school will have a distinctive color, carry banners, with suitable texts and mottoes, and sing appropriate hymns along the line of march Each man, woman and child in line besides wearing the school color, will wear a badge ,an open Bible, and will carry in their hands a Bible or some portion of it.

The schools in the order in which they march, with their color, and the illustration they present, are as follows: Second Baptist, white, The Prologue—telling the old, old story; Trinity, dark blue, The Law, or the five Books of Moses; M. E. Church South, purple, the twelve Historical Books; Methodist Protestant, red, the five Poetical Books; First Baptist, light green, the seventeen Prophetical Books; Christ, light blue, Evangel or the four Gospels; Grace, red, the founding of the Christian Church or the Acts of the Apostles; Second Presbyterian, yellow, Christian Literature or the twenty-one Epistles; St. Paul's, orange, The Apocalypse, or the Revelation of St. John the Divine

In addition, the Del Ray Baptist Del Ray Methodist and Salvation Army will march, together with the Alexandria Musical Association and Indian Guard bands.

The formation of each school will be as follows: school banner, the illustration and text, ministers superintendents, officials, the primary, secondary and adult classes with their teachers, and the members of the Home Department. The ministers of each church are expected to march with their school.

A reviewing stand has been erected at the intersection of Cameron and Washington streets, and the parade will be reviewed by the officers of the Virginia State Sunday School Association.

At the conclusion of the parade the primary scholars will fall out of line while the others will march to their respective conferences. The boys conference will be held in Trinity Church and will be addressed by W. W. Millan, of Washington, D. C.; the girls conference will be held in the M. E Church South, and will be addressed by Mrs. Frank T. Israel, of Fairfax Va.; and the adult conference will be held in the First Baptist Church, and will be addressed by Hon. John Garland Pollard, Attorney-General for Virginia.

Programs containing information in regard to this rally and demonstration have been printed and will be distributed at the various churches on Sunday morning. They will not be distributed at any other time, so that those desiring them will have to procure them from the committee at their respective churches.

In case of in clement weather, the parade will be positponed until the following Sunday, but the conferences will be held rain or shine.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

Young Men Assault Waiter in Washington Lunch Room.

Two young men entered the White Palace lunchroom, 1417 G street northwest, Washington, shortly before 9 o'clock last evening and asked to be served some sandwiches. They were in a hurry, they said, and had to catch a train.

When Louis Loomis, a waiter, turned to serve the men, one of them hit him with blackjack. As Loomis fell to the floor the men started toward the cash drawer.

Charles Mandis, proprietor of the lunchroom, saw Loomis, fall stunned, and went to his rescue. Loomis arose and the men became frightened and fled.

Shortly after their attempt at robbery, the men were seen to board a Washington, Batlimore, and Annapolis car, bound for Baltimore, at Eleventh street and New York avenue northwest.

At 1 o'clock this morning a telegram was received at Washington police headquarters from the Baltimore police saying that two young men had been arrested on suspicion of being the hold-up men and that the prisoners had confessed. The telegram said the men gave the names of Harry Brightwell and Roy Harris. It was stated that Brightwell gave 204 F street northwest as his address, and that Harris refused to say where he lives.

FIRES BULLET INTO MOUTH.

Colonel Glasgow, Bay State Legislator, Commits Suicide.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.— Col. Edward Brodie Glasgow, 40 years old, of Worcester, Mass., and a member of the Legislature of that State, committed suicide shortly before noon yesterday in Glasgow House, the country home of his brother, William Glasgow, at Elkins Park, a fashionable suburb of this city. He placed a revolver in his mouth and pulled the trigger, and died almost instantly.

Colonel Glasgow, who was a bachelor, came to the home of his brother about 10 days ago for rest. Upon his arrival his brother noticed that the Colonel was suffering from a nervous breakdown, but did not think his condition was serious.

William Glasgow, the brother, said he knew of no reason why Colonel Glasgow, should have shot himself, except that he had suffered a nervous breakdown.

WILD RIDE ON BLAZING HAY

Man and Youth Face Death as Horses Dash on

Egg Harbor, N. J., Oct. 16—Vincent Gourciou, an aged farmer, and Anthony Laubert, 19 years old, narrowly escaped while returning from West Egg Harbor with a load of hay Tuesday afternoon, when it suddenly became a mass of flames. The horses became crazed and dashed along the road at terrific speed. The wind fanned the flames, which turned the wagon into a furnace. The two men pulled frantically at the reins, but the horses kept on, narrowly missing automobilists, who turned far into the roadside to escape the burning wagon.

Both the men and horses would have been roasted alive but for the heroic action of Henry Butterhoff and Joseph Nowatzki, who were returning home in an automobile when they discovered the blazing wagon. Applying extra speed they passed and stopped their machine crosswise of the road, bringing the horses to a stop. The men escaped just as the flames were approaching the front wheels.

FORMALLY DECLARE WAR

London, Oct. 16—Great Britain has declared war on Bulgaria.

The British Foreign Office announces that in view of the fact that Bulgaria has announced she is at war with Serbia and is an ally of the central powers, His Majesty's government has informed the Bulgarian government through the Swedish Minister at London, who is in charge of Bulgarian interests, that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Bulgaria.

Official announcement was made here yesterday that Serbia had declared war on Bulgaria. The announcement states war has been declared on account of Bulgarian attacks on Serbian armies on the Zaitchen and Radovitch fronts.

CONDITIONS IN THE WAR ZONES

Germans Take Village of Pozarevac By Move Costing Dearly

RUSSIA MAKES GAINS

Muscovites Penetrate Position of Teutons at One Point—British Lose Two Points

London, Oct. 16—From all the main battle fronts comes news of continued fighting, but from none of them has been received any indication of victories or reverses which would make a marked change in the general situation.

The Austrian, Germans and Bulgarians are proceeding methodically with their invasion of Serbia which according to neutral reports, is costing them a very heavy price in the lives of soldiers, as the hardened veterans of Servia are taking every advantage of the difficult country to inflict the greatest possible loss on the invaders.

The Germans, however, have been able to occupy Pozarevac, southeast of Semendria, and claim that their compaign is proceeding according to their plans. The Quadruple Entente allies are perfecting their preparations to assist the Servians and every day additional troops are landed at Saloniki, where the French general Sarrail, has arrived to take command of the allied forces. What steps Russia and Italy have taken to assist have not yet developed.

The political situation remains unchanged, Greece having formally announced that she would not intervene in behalf of Servia "at present." and Rumania, although she is being urged by Germany definitely to define her position, not having made any move.

Along the western front there has been heavy fighting in the Artois Champagne and Vosges regions. Attacks were made by both sides, but the gains and losses are described as being of little importance.

In the east the Russians have turned to the offensive in the region of Dvinsk and although the Germans claim that they have repulsed most of the Muscovite attacks, they admit that the Russians penetrated their line at one point. Except for the hostilities in this region things are somewhat calmer in the east, Lieutenant General Ivanoff, the Russian commander, after his victory in Galicia and the subsequent check by the Germans, having for the moment shown himself satisfied with what he achieved.

The Italians again have been on the offensive and claim to have gained some successes against the Austrians. The Austrians, however, deny this statement.

SHE ACCUSES MALONE

Lusitania Widow Alleges Explosives Were Put On Liner As Result of Conspiracy.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Charging that as a result of a conspiracy between Dudley Field Malone, Collector of Customs at New York, and Capt. U. T. Turner, master of the Lusitania, there was a large cargo of explosives illegally in the hold of the vessel, Mrs. Sarah Lund, of Chicago, whose husband and father were drowned by the sinking of the ship, yesterday sued the Cunard Steamship Company, Limited owners of the late liner, for $40,000 damages for injuries sustained herself in the catastrophe.

Her attorney, Frank S. Monnett alleges in the bill of complaint filed, that she was deceived into taking passage on the ship by statements made on behalf of the company, that it was fully provided with safety devices including life boats and rafts.

Mrs. Lund's mother was lost in the sinking of the Empress of Ireland. It was to investigate a rumor that she survived and with her mind a blank was known as "Mrs. Fitzgerald" at an English asylum that Mrs. Lund her husband and her father sailed on the Lusitania.

PLAYED INTO GERMAN HANDS

Bulgarian Ruler a Blind Believer in Teutonic Victory.

Paris, Oct. 16.—That the Russian retreat, skilfully exploited by German agents, was the immediate cause of turning against the Allies the sentiment of the Bulgarian people, who are intensely practical, was the assertion made by A. de Panafieu, French Minister at Sofia, to the correspondent of the Journal at Pirneus.

"The event coincided," he said, "with the visit of the Duke of Mecklenburg, who found a ready tool in King Ferdinand, a blind believer in Germany's victory. The Champagne success came too late to restore the balance. The Bulgarian people understood nothing of diplomatic calculations. They see only Macedonia to be conquered. Certainly if the Russian flag appeared at Varna or Burgas it might arouse memories in their inmost souls, but interest comes before sentiment.

"Russia, the great motherland, will henceforth be far away to the Bulgarian peasant. Mobilization was a sad and dreary proceeding, without songs or cheers, vastly different from the heroic frenzy of October, 1912 Hundreds of German officers are acting as instructors of the Bulgarian armies, but they do not wear German uniforms, although a few Austrian uniforms are seen. Germans in Bulgarian uniforms organized the defenses of Deadeaghatch and the Black Sea ports and fixed batteries and anti-aircraft guns at Sofia.

"It would be premature to express an opinion about the possibility of a revolution for at least a month. The Bulgarian people are embarking upon a risky adventure without joy, but it is beyond question that if they find out they have been deceived they will seek out and punish the guilty. The rupture of diplomatic relations stupefied the Bulgarians. Even when we went to get our passports no one in Sofia believed we were going. We were treated with the greatest cordiality and our journey to Dedeagatch was without incident."

BARKEEPER MUST PAY

Man Killed by a Train While Intoxicated.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—The State Superior Court has upheld the contention that a saloonkeeper is responsible for the death of an intoxicated patron if he is killed in an accident after laving the saloon.

In an opinion by Judge Arlady, the court, sitting in this city affirmed a verdict of $1,000 damages recovered in the Allegheny County Court by Mrs. Elizabeth Bier, in her own right and in behalf of her six children, Her husband was killed by a train after he had become "staggering drunk" in the saloon of Florence W. Myers, at Dravasburg, Allegheny county, in November 1913.

The saloonkeeper admitted Bier had obtained liquor in her place, but contended that the testimony was not sufficiently clear to trace the cause of his death to the drink she had unlawfully sold him.

The widow's right to recover against the hotelkeeper is founded on an act of May 8, 1854, which provides that any person furnishing intoxicating drinks to any other person in violation of any existing law shall be held civilly responsible for injury to person or property in consequence.

It is provided in an act of 1887 that "it shall be unlawful for any person, with or with out license, to furnish by sale, gift or otherwise, to any person any spiritous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors, to a minor, or to a person of known intemperate habits or to a person visibly affected by intoxicating drinks, either for his own use or for the use of any other person."

NOTICE

All real estate contests in both the old city and the annexed territory will be taken up by the board on Wednesday, October 20th, 1915, at 9:30 a. m. at which time all other contests affecting taxation will be taken up, and the public is notified to file in writing their objections with the Clerk prior to that time. The hearings will be heard practically continously thereafter until the work of the board is completed.

SERBIA MAKING LAST DITCH FIGHT

France, Russia and Italy Will Also Declare War on Bulgaria

NEEDS SPEEDY HELP

Continued German and Austrian Drive Making Progress Through Moravo Valley

Paris, Oct. 16.— Heavily beset on three sides, Serbia is making a last ditch fight for her life.

Following Great Britain's declaration of war against Bulgria, it is expected today that France, Russia and Italy will issue similar proclamations immediately.

It is conceded by military experts today that help by the allies must reach the little nation speedily to be availing. The Serbians claim to be holding their own against the Bulgarians, on the east and the Austrians on the west along the Drina, but it is admitted that the combined German and Austrian drive from the north is making steady progress through the Morava valley.

Field Marshall von Mackensen, from all accounts, realizes the importance of speed to the central powers, as fully as the Serbians appreciated the necessity of delaying the invaders until assistance can reach them from the British, French, Russians, and Italians.

He is hurling his men against the Serbian defenses regardless of losses. These, Nish dispatches said, have been at least 20,000 killed and 40,000 wounded. Nevertheless, the weight of numbers is telling. It is admittedly clear that the invaders will reach Constantinople unless the Serbians are re-enforced.

There are reports that the British recently landed at Salonika, are pushing toward the fighting zone. It is not believed, however, that they are numerous enough to accomplish much. Stronger forces are known to be needed imperatively.

France, so far as can be learned from official sources, has yet taken no steps, The conviction is growing that the French and British will call off the Dardanelles campaign, at least temporarily, to use in Serbia the troops now on the Gallipoli peninsula

Italian government officials are holding a series of conferences with a view to deciding on a program. An announcement from Rome is looked for hourly.

Russia is understood to have the men ready, but to lack means of getting them to the point where they are required.

Roumania's decision no remain neutral appears to have closed that avenue except through the use of force, at which the allies hesitate.

$20,000,000 TOBACCO FIRM

Big Combine Incorporated Under Laws of Delaware

New York, Oct. 16—Announcement of the formation of the Mutual Tobacco Company, Inc., a $20,000,000 corporation, which includes some of the largest tobacco manufacturing concerns in the United States, was made yesterday by Benjamin Swartz, counsel for the company. Incorporation papers were filed today in Delaware, he said, and headquarters of the company will be in New York.

Among the concerns taken over by the Mutual Tobacco Company, Inc., it is stated, are Mrs. G. B. Miller and Co., of New York; Hoffman and Co., of New York; Allen and Dunning, of Paterson, N. J., and the Campbell Tobacco Company of Newark, N. J.

BRITISH SUBS. ACTIVE.

Destroy Two German Torpedoboat Destroyers Between Denmark and Sweden.

Copenhagen, Oct. 16.—British submarines are reported to have torpedoed and sunk two German torpedoboat destroyers.

A German destroyer was sunk yesterday morning at the southern entrance to the Sound, a narrow strait between Denmark and Sweden, which connects the Baltic with the North Sea.

A message from Falsterbo ,Sweden which brought news of this incident, adds that another German destroyer and a cruiser which were accompanying the destroyer that was sunk speeded to the southward. Information indicates that all the members of the destroyer's crew were lost.

Dispatches to the evening newspapers here say that a second German torpedoboat was sunk by the British submarine E-19 near Faxe, According to these telegrams a German flotilla, one boat of which was sunk Wednesday, returned Thursday with reinforcements, and fishermen heard another explosion and saw a torpedoboat disappear. Thereupon the flotilla hurried away .

London, Oct. 16.—British submarines have now cleared the Baltic Sea and the Gulf of Bothnia entirely of German merchant ships, says a dispatch to the Star from Copenhagen.

Every German ship which was south bound from Sweden when the submarines started their campaign has either been sunk or run aground, it adds.

Of 50 German ore carriers, 37 are virtually interned in Swedish ports, the correspondent declares.

TURKS STEAL GIRLS

Harems Filled, Boys Slain, Professors Tortured and Exiled.

New York, Oct 16.—Details of Turkish atrocities committed against members of the faculty and students at the American College at Harpoot were made public by the American committee on Armenian atrocities through letters which Prof. Samuel T. Dutton, its secretary ,received from the victims of the outrages.

Two-thirds of the total number of girl pupils at Euphrates College, the American institution at Harpoot, it is reported, have been taken away to Moslem harems or killed. Six out of every seven of the boys have been exiled or slain. Four of the seven professors have suffered similar fates. Prof. Tenekejain, was killed after the hair of his head and beard had been torn out in torture. Prof. Nahigian suffered the same fate.

Prof. Vorperian was forced to witness a man beaten almost to death. The sight drove him crazy, and he was ordered into exile. He was killed with his family en route Prof. Boojicanian was tortured by having his finger nails torn out and then killed. three others escaped by paying bribes to the authorities, who allowed them to escape to hiding places. One of them, Prof. Lulejian, was beaten insensible by the Kaim-Makam, or Mayor of the city.

Of the men instructors four have been massacred, three are missing and probably dead, two are in the hospital, one is in hiding, and two are temporarily free through bribes. Of the women instructors one has been dragged to a Turkish harem, three are missing, one was murdered, four exiled and ten are free.

These statistics were sent to the American society by one of the officers of the college, who begs that some measures be taken here to stop the slaughter of Armenians.

THOS. F. RYAN'S INDEBTEDNESS

Multi-Millionaire Said to Owe State Half Million Dollars

COMPROMISE REPORT

Amount Due Not So Large as Was First Supposed—Report Endorsed by Circuit Court.

Richmond, Oct. 16—Thomas Fortune Ryan, of Nelson county and New York, is delinquent in his returns for property for taxation to the aggregate amount of $54,375,000 for the last ten years.

Mr. Ryan will have to pay to the State $245,025, while to the county of Nelson, including the district assessments, he will have to pay $339,375.

These are the figures taken from the report of R. H. Drummond, examiner of records for the county of Nelson, for the last ten years and cover bonds, money, shares of stock and the income therefrom and is separate from his real estate holdings.

The matter has been under adjustment for several weeks past, John L. Lee, of Lynchburg, being employed by Examiner Drummond in connection with the task. Congressman H. D Flood, of the Tenth District, a close personal and political friend of Mr. Ryan, is generally understood to have counseled Mr. Ryan in the proceedings. Within the last two weeks Mr. Flood and Mr. Lee paid a visit to New York and went over some records in that city. Following their return the report of the examiner was made up.

The showing is a distinct surprise to the general public following sensational publications and reports. Mr. Ryan was held to be due to the State more than a million dollars in back taxes, and he was said to have omitted as much as $200,000,000 in some instances.

The report submitted has the approval of Judge Bennett T. Gordon, of that circuit, of the local board of review, and also of the commissioner of the revenue.

It stated that so far as the Auditor of Public Accounts was concerned the report would be accepted as correct. If there is to be any correction of any sort—either on the part of Mr. Ryan or on the part of the State—it will have to be made in the Circuit Court for the county of Nelson.

The State is entitled to an appeal in the matter as well as Mr. Ryan.

The report makes some interesting disclosures. It shows that for at least ten years back Mr. Ryan has failed to make a proper return for taxation. Just how much more he might have been found "short" is open to speculation, but the examiner did not go back for more than ten years.

Under the laws of the State the examiner had a right to go back to 1876, but that has never been done in any case so far. If the examiner should make another report, after going back still further, it is possible he could add much more to the State's exchequer.

In making the calculations it will be shown that the State will not get all that is quoted above: The reason is that the tax on money, since 1914, and including that year, is twenty cents on each $100. That makes a difference of $575,000, the amount of cash on hand when the report should have been made. That will be inconsequential when the figures as a whole are considered.

This is the biggest sum any examiner has yet returned for an individual case. It also means that the State will receive more money from this one case than from any two others which have so far been reported.

An interesting point will be raised before the matter of examiners' reports are completed. The law directs them to go back as far as 1876, but this has never been done. The examiners have used discretion, the idea being to have property owners make reports that are correct.

JOHN BROWN FIASCO

Part Played By Alexandrians in Bringing Insurrection to Speedy Close.

Fifty-six years ago today Virginia was excited over the mad act of John Brown and a few of his dupes by an attempt upon the part of the old fanatic to cause an uprising of the slaves in this state. The history of this visionary man has often been written. He was celebrated for nothing save life-long antipathy to slavery. He was charged with dark deeds before he came to Virginia. He was at one time a wool merchant, but proved a failure in the commercial world, and, like many others since incapable of managing his own affairs, he imagined he was called to play a part equal to that of Moses.

On Monday, October 16, 1859, the country was startled by telegraphic announcements that an insurrection had occurred at Harper's Ferry, in Jefferson county, now West Virginia, and that certain persons had taken possession of the United States Arsenal, located there; that they had committed many outrages by seizing citizens, firing into passing trains, killing several persons, and seizing vehicles, which they loaded with arms, taken from the Government arsenal, which they removed; cutting also the telegraph wires to prevent early information of their operations being known. Nothwithstanding this precaution on the part of these assassins, the news was speedily communicated to the country. Henry A. Wise, Governor of Virginia, took immediate steps to suppress the insurrection, and for this purpose summoned the troops of the Commonwealth, residing adjacent to Harper's Ferry, and those within easy communication by rail, to repair at once to Harper's Ferry. Among the earliest to arrive were the Alexandria Riflemen, Capt. Morton Marye, which escorted the Governor to the scene of operations. The insurrection was a brief, but sharp affair. On the evening of the 17th of October, General Robert E. Lee, then Colonel in the U. S. Army, arrived with a company of marines, and on the following morning, Colonel Shutt, bearing a flag of truce, demanded the surrender of the insurgents, which, being refused, the marines by order of Col. Lee advanced, charged, and endeavored to break down the door of the Armory, which building the conspirators occupied, and where they held as prisoners, several citizens and Government employees. A large ladder used as a battering ram forced the door, under a brisk fire from the insurgents. In the melee three marines and several citizens held by them, were killed; and among the latter a son of Brown, the ringleader. Brown himself being badly wounded. The Virginia troops, adjacent to Harper's Ferry, were on the ground, when Colonel Lee's command arrived, and shortly after the capture of Brown, Cook, Coppic, Green and Copeland, the latter two negroes, and the other insurgents, Governor Wise arrived with the Alexandria Riflemen and other Virginia troops. Shortly thereafter, there also arrived the 175th regiment Virginia Militia, commanded by Colonel Chas. E. Stuart, of Alexandria, the 179th regiment, commanded by Lieut. Colonel E. L. Brockett, of Petersburg, the first regiment; Colonel Thomas P. August, of Richmond, the Alexandria Artillery, Capt. Duffey and the Mount Vernon Guards, Capt. S. H. Devaughn of Alexandria. By appointment of Colonel Stuart, orderly Sergeant Wm. W. Rock was put in charge of regimental headquarters. After the capture of Brown and his party, the people would have made short work of them but for the presence of Colonel Lee and Governor Wise, who had just arrived, and who said the conspirators should be tried according to the law of the land, that no harm should befall them meanwhile. Brown and confederates were removed to Charlestown, Jefferson county, for trial for "Insurrection and murder." Brown was executed on the 2d of December, 1859, and John E. Cook, Edwin Coppie Shields Green and John Copeland on the 16th of the same month.

During their absence a "Home Guard" was organized for the protection of the town, and Col. William S. Kemper elected Captain. Captain M. D. Corse, 1st Lieutenant, Col. Charles F. Suttle, 2d Lieutenant, Col. Robert S. Ashby 3d Lieutenant and Captain Thornton Triplett 4th Lieutenant. This Home Guard assisted the regular police force in patrolling the town and looking after suspicious characters.

Oyster Season open, at the Rammel Cafe.

MOSES-ALLISON WEDDING

Impressive Ceremony At Wytheville Last Tuesday Evening.

The Southwest Virginia Enterprise of Wytheville, gives the following account of the Moses-Allison wedding:

On Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, the Presbyterian Church of Wytheville was the scene of a beautiful wedding, when Miss Lillian Guthrie Allison, daughter of Rev. John L. and Mrs. Allison, was led to the altar by Mr. Frank Armstrong Moses of Johnson City, Tennessee.

The decorations were in exquisite taste, the altar banked with ferns and white chysanthemums arranged very artistically. Prof. Frank Nelson of Knoxville, Tenn., cousin of the groom presided at the organ.

In advance of the maids were the flower girls, Minerva Allison and Rhoda Howard, in lovely white dresses with pink and blue ribbons, entered from the annex at the left of the altar and met the bridal party at the rear of the church.

Then the groomsmen entered in pairs as did the bridesmaids, followed by the flower girls and grouped themselves on either side of the altar.

The first two maids entering were robed in white point-de spri over blue messaline and the next couple in white point-de-spri over pink messaline all bearing pink chrysanthemums.

The maids were as follows: Misses Laura Lee Stanley, of Norfolk; Laura McClure Allison, Alexandria, sister of the bride; Virginia Brown and May Kent, of Wytheville.

The groomsemen were:

Messrs. Adam Bowman, J. F. Leake jr., and William Miller, of Johnson City, and Earl V. Warsham, of Knoxville, Tenn., then the matron of honor Mrs. George Ogden of Knoxville, sister of the groom, handsomely gowned in cream lace robe over pink taffeta, carrying Killarney roses,. Miss Martha Allison, maid of honor, sister of the bride, entered wearing flowered chiffon over lavender crepe and carrying pink Killarney roses.

The bride, in a lovely creation of white crepe meteor, her veil being that of her mother's, caught with orange blossoms and her shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses entered on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Walter Stanley, of Norfolk, and was given in marriage by him, her father being the officiating minister, assisted by Rev. J. A. Gray, of Wytheville, At the altar she met the groom and his best man, Mr. Geo. Ogden of Knoxville. The impressive ring ceremony being used.

Immediately following the ceremony a delightful reception was given at the beautiful summer home of the bride's parents which was decorated in ferns and cut flowers .

The bride's cake was cut later in the evening, Miss Laura Stanley getting the ring and Mrs. Ogden the thimble. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Martha Allison.

A large and costly collection of wedding gifts attested the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses left on the Memphis Special, for New York and Canada; thence by water to Jacksonville, Fla., before returning to Johnson City, Tennessee, where they will make their future home.

POLITICS IN THE WAR.

It is suggested by the Philadelphia Record that political, rather than military, considerations are evidently playing the principal part in the Austro-German-Bulgarian onslaught on heroic little Serbia. Despite the bombastic talk from Berlin about a German conquest of Egypt and a possible drive at India, it is clear that the advantages sought are not territorial and that the real object in view is to obtain the aid of Bulgaria and its army of perhaps half a million men. If this were not the case Germany, which is hard pressed on both the eastern and western fronts, would never weaken her forces to the extent necessary to supply the army now battling against the Servians. Ostensibly its objective is aid for Turkey, but in the past solicitude for her Moslem ally has never been a strong point with Germany.

The role played by Austria-Hungary is equally curious. With the Russians rapidly reconquering Galicia and now not far from Lemberg the Dual Monarchy diverts a large army to attack Servia, which for nearly a year has taken no offensive action. If thu weakens its powers of resistance against both Russians and Italians, with no military compensations in view beyond gaining the support of Bulgaria.

Not to be outdone in the political game, Russia is pushing her advantage over Austria with a evident eye to the effect on Roumania and the other Balkan States. It is a shrewd move, for if Rumania, by far the most powerful of the Balkan nations, could be brought into the war on the Entente allies' side by the promise of more territory it would more than counteract Bulgaria's opposition.

In this mix-up of politics and strategy it is hard to say which side will come out ahead. Servia may be temporarily crushed by vastly superior numbers but her allies are bound to see that she receives justice in the end. Bulgaria's course beclouds the real issues for the time, but is not likely to have any decisive influence in the struggle.

WHAT DO THE SCHOOLS TEACH?

Discussing a familiar grievance, the Virginia Citizen, of Irvington, editorially describes the experience of many business men who undertake to secure clerks, bookkeepers or stenographers fresh from the schools. The Citizen says that many graduates are unable to spell the simplest English words, are unfamiliar with historic and prominent names, have smatterings of German and French and theoretical ideas of bookkeeping and stenography which they are unable to apply.

The Richmond Journal in commenting on the above says:

Everywhere in the country there are similar complaints. Thousands of business men are stirred constantly to exasperated questions of what really is taught in our schools, public and private, small and big. It was published recently that in a large Northern city 40 per cent, of pupils of intermediate grades failed to spell correctly the word "has." Young men and women from high schools and from colleges called on to do anything aside from the simplest routine office work "fall down." It is a constant experience to find them apparently absolutely ignorant of the most conspicious facts and persons of the history of their own country or any other. Allusions to any one of the most familiar English classics reduce them to blank bewilderment. Many of them are unacquainted even with the Bible, have not been taught or have forgotten its most beautiful or stirring incidents. Men who have asked puzzled questions as to what the schools are teaching that is of practical value have been met with vaguely weak and inconclusive replies.

The net results of the machine methods used in large schools, of the multitudes of theories and fads, of our efforts to teach something of everything and not much of anything and of parental neglect are deplorable. We make our schools like chickens, scattering little pellets of knowledge with the hope that some of them will hit and stick somewhere. So we turn out a finished product entirely superficial, not throughly grounded in any one single thing. A boy or girl taught how to spell correctly and to read and write legibly, made to understand the principles of simple arithmetic, the few really important rules of grammar and the outlines of history has a start for success and for the accomplishment of real results far better than those who have skimmed through a dozen ologies and clogged their minds with fragments of uncomprehended instruction.

OFT-REPEATED PROPHESY.

"No matter who wins the European war, Turkey will be dominated by a Christian power and Mohammedanism will lose its political power," declared Rev. Charles R. Watson, secretary of the Presbyterian foreign mission board, at last night's session of the semi-annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church at the Walace Memorial Church in Petworth.

Dr. Watson took as his text, "The European war in relation to present-day activities in world-wide church work." He told how the present war in Europe had sounded the death knell of Turkey as a world power and forecasted the end of Mohammedanism.

This prophesy was uttered by Peter the Hermit and affirmed by Pope Urban II. It has been repeated many times in the centuries that have followed. In 1876 when Russia and Turkey locked horns over a massacre of Christians in Salonika and in the Balkan war a few years ago, many people supposed the end of Mohammedanism was near.

During the old indenture system a boy was whipped by his master, a shoe maker. The boy prayed every morning for his torturer's death. He kept up the practice of calling down wrath upon the shoemaker for forty years until one morning he rejoiced to know that the Crispin was dead and that his prayer had been answered.

There is an old saying to the effect that there will be an end of all things. The religion of the "prophet" will evenutally pay the debt of nature, but there are no signs of dissolution at present while the people of the most powerful nation of Europe, while not wearing turbans nor having crescent moons for stickpins, are aiding and afecting the followers of the Arbian camel driver.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The Austro-German forces that invaded Serbia have lost, it is said 20-000 men in killed and 40,000 in wounded on the Belgrade-Semendria-Obrenduvatz front.

Five more German steamers bringing the total to eleven, have been sunk in the Baltic by British submarines. All carried metals.

Of the milions of dollars spent daily in this country by the allies for war supplies, not a dollar, it is learned authoratively can be spent without first obtaining the official sanction of the British government.

The British steamer Salerno has been torpedoed and sunk by a submarine. The crew was saved. The Salerno was a Wilson Line steamer built at Glasgow, in 1912. She was of 2,071 tons gross register.

The total of British casualties up to October 9, was 96,899, according to official figures given out by the British War Office. Of this number 18,957 were killed. including 1,185 officers. The casualties of the Australasian contingent were 29,121.

After a brief quarrel believed to have resulted from, insanity and to loss of work, Hossie Montain, aged 24, shot and fatally wounded his wife Mary Montain, Thursday, afternoon at their home in Erie, Pa., and then fired a shot through his own head that is expected to cause death.

Abandonment of the attempt to force the Dardanelles and transfer of the entire Anglo-French expeditionary forces to the Balkan peninsula is forecast by Thursday's discussion in the British House of Lords over the failure of Anglo-French diplomacy in the Near East.

The United States Ambassador has informed the British foreign office that Miss Edith Cavell, lately head of the nurses' school at Brussels, has been executed by the German authorities. It is understood Miss Cavell was charged with harboring fugitive soldiers from the lines of the allies and assisting them to escape.

The old colonial mansion which has stood at 164th street and Sheridan avenue New York, since Revolutionary times, and which was attributed by tradition to have been the headquarters of Gen. Washington, was burned yesterday. Upon one of the windows scratched with a diamond were the signatures of Gen. Washington, count De Lafayette, Alexander Hamilton and others famous in American history.

George F. Staskpole, whose fight for life against the dreaded anthrax has held the interest of the medical world for thepast week, died yesterday at Bellevue, Hospital, New York, not from anthrax, but from heart disease Physicians said that the anthrax poisoning had been completely cured by the serum compounded by Dr. Adolph Eichorn, of the Federal Bureau of Animal Husbandry at Washington.

Grief-stricken over the death of her husband, a coal barge captain, who was drowned Monday, and fearing to face life penniless and in ill-health, Mrs. Joseph Huntsinger put her three children to bed, turned on all the gas jets in their Brooklyn home, and went to sleep herself. All four were found dead. The woman had identified the body of her husband at the morgue and then went home where she planned the tragedy.

"If you won't live with me, then you will have to die with me," shouted Clarence Culp, 28 years old, of Philadelphia, Thursday, as he fired two bullets into the head of his wife Mrs. Anna Culp, 25 years old, afterward shooting himself and slashing his throat and wrist with a potato knife. The woman had refused to take him back when he returned after deserting her three months ago. Both are now in St. Timothy's Hospital in a serious condition.

Germany has begun a campaign, the object of which is to march from Constantinople to the Suez Canal, according to Charles H. Ault, of Newark, who returned to New York on the liner Lapland, yesterday, after having spent several weeks in Germany in connection with dye importations. "Four weeks ago," Mr. Ault said, "I was told in Berlin that the allies would soon be forced to abandon their attempt to force the Dardanelles by the campaign headed for the Suez canal."

"A league of Christian nations, headed by the Pope, to insure respect for moral principles and enforce them even with arms" is advocated by the English cardinal, Gasquet, in an article published in the Corriere d'Italia of Rome. This article is regarded as explaining the Pope's viewpoint. The necessity of giving the Pope enough authority to regulate the articles of international law which regulate war is emphasized. The article declares such action would guarantee the observance of such laws and thus "save human civilization."

A famine in plug tobacco has been averted as a result of the decision of the French and British governments to allow licorice which is used in the manufacture of that commodity to come through from Asia Minor. The State Department was notified yesterday afternoon that shipments of the licorice, held up since the beginning of the war, would be allowed to come through if ships flying the American flag are used. The manufacturers of plug tobacco were on the verge of shutting down because no licorice was available.

VIRGINIA NEWS

An elderly white man, who could not be identified ,was found dying yesterday in a yard on Jamestown avenue, Norfolk. He had been shot twice.

Disgusted with frequent tuberculin tests, which he regards as a "passing and disputed medical fad," John Armstrong Chaloner, of The Merry Mills, is planning to sell his entire herd of registered Jerseys under the hammer in Charlottesville on October 20th.

J. L. McGraw, a lineman of the Appalachian Power Company, came in contact with a live electric wire at Pulaski yesterday afternoon while working at the top of a pole and was killed. He was thrown 35 feet to the ground. He was 22 years old and lived at Radford.

C. F. Atkinson, of Sussex county, reported at the Petersburg police station Thursday night that he had been assaulted on Third street by a negro woman and robbed of his money, about $21. The woman also used a knife on him, slashed his clothes and inflicted a cut on his neck.

The announcement was was made in Bristol last night that Fred Millard and Joel Sproles, Republican candidates for the House of Delegates from Bristol and Washington county, had failed to register and caused a political sensation. The Democrats are jubilant over the prospects of electing their candidates.

Martin Williams, of Giles county, floor leader of the House of Delegates will be a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor in the Democratic primary of 1917, and Former Delegate James R. Caton, of Alexandria, have also been mentioned as possible aspirants for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor. —(Times-Dispatch.)

Harold E. Talley, aged about 17 years, son of J. A. Talley, died yesterday morning at his home, in Rome street, of injuries sustained Thursday night in a fall from a street car in Petersburg. He was on his way home at the time, and in arising to allow a passenger to get off the car, lost his balance and fell out to the street.

Virginia's quota of the proposed 400,000 reserve army, which will be created under the Garrison new army plan will be 8,000 men. These men will be trained, enlisted for three years and trained two months each summer at some point in Virginia, probably at Virginia Beach, the State encampment grounds. They will be known as the Virginia Continental Army or reservists and will be distinct from the State militia.

The Virginia Synod of the Presbyterian Church adjourned yesterda in Lynchburg, to meet next year at Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church, Richmond. The terms of three officers expired with this convention and the new officers elected today were: Secretary, young people's work, Mrs. H. D. Perkins, Norfolk; corresponding and recording secretary, Miss Irene Maislip, Staunton; Secretary young people's literature, Miss Bessie Cook, Bon Air.

Forty-five years ago, yesterday, General Robert E. Lee, was buried in the basement of the Lee Memorial Chapel, situated on the college campus, at Lexington. Imposing, yet simple, ceremonies marked the occasion. General Lee died on Wdnesday morning, October 12, 1870, at 9:30 o'clock, in the President's house at Washington College, now Washington and Lee University. The body was conveyed to the chapel on Thursday, October 13, at noon, and the funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m., on Saturday, October 15.

Five men from the interned German cruiser Prinz Eithel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm at Norfolk Navy Yard, made fruitless attempt yesterday to escape from this country to Holland on the steamers Monadnock and Maartensdyke, which sailed for Rotterdam. One of the men is under arrest at Newport News. The others it is supposed went back to the German cruisers. No word has been received from the six German warrant officers missing from the auxiliary Kronprinz Wilhelm, who are reported to have gone to sea on the yacht Eclipse. No sailors or officers from either the Kronprinz Wilhelm or the Eitel Frederich, were permitted to come ashore yesterday, following instructions received from Washington.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Alexandria Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what an Alexandria citizen says:

William H. Beach, 417 S. Lee St., Alexandria, says: "My back pained me so badly that I could hardly get about. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and during the night I had to get up every little while. I felt so sore and stiff in themorning that I could hardly get out of bed. I was tired and languid and had no ambition to do anything. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at W. F. Creighton and Son's Drug Store and the first few doses gave me relief. I used about four boxes and they put my kidneys in good condition. My back never aches now and I feel first-class in every way."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Beach had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suifered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the womar's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

END OF SUBMARINE ISSUE

Bernstorff Says No More Notes to Be Exchanged on U-Boat Warfare.

New York, Oct. 16.—Count Johann von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, announces that the submarine issue between the Washington and Berlin governments has been completely cleared up and that no further notes would be exchanged.

"The exchange of notes by the United States and Germany on the submarine affair is at an end," says the Ambassador. "Everything has been arranged satisfactorily to both countries and nothing but the most friendly relations now exist between German and American officials. I am very happy over the present state of affairs, and I am very positive it will continue—for all time, I hope."

"How about the answer on the Lusitania note?" he was asked.

"The exchange of notes on the submarine affair, as I said before, has been completed.

"Now nothing remains but a confidential conference between Secretary Lansing and myself," he continued. "I shall leave for Washington the middle or the latter part of next week and shall arrange to see Mr. Lansing, as soon as I arrive there."

"Then all the tension has passed?." he was asked.

"Indeed, yes. There is no tension whatever over the matter now. There is no trouble at all. The most peaceful feeling of brotherly love now exists between the two countries.

"There is nothing to be done but make formal arrangement for the payment of indemnities to the United States. Germany has made disavowal, the apology and the offer of indemnity. Everything will be arranged satisfactorily."

ROW IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Newspaper Reporter Killed While Vote was Being Canvassed.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 16.—Sidney J. Cohen, a newspaper reporter, was killed and four men were shot in a row that occurred here yesterday just outside the room where the Democratic city executive committee was to meet to canvass the returns of the municipal primary last Tuesday.

Joseph Black, of the Democratic executive committee is reported to have been shot in the abdomen.

A man named Wingate, is also said to have been seriously, if not fatally, wounded.

The Democratic primary developed into such a bitter fight between the anherents of Mayor John P. Grace and Tristam T. Hyde, running at the head of the tickets, that trouble was feared. Representations made to Gov. Manning by the sheriff and the Democratic executive committee resulted in the governor ordering four companies of militia and three divisions of naval militia held at their armories The militia was not dispersed until 7 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The unofficial count showed that Hyde had won by 19 votes, but more than 100 votes were contested.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 16.—As soon as Gov. Manning received notice of the shooting he ordered the Washington Light Infantry, of Charleston, under arms, and placed Col. E. M Blythe, of Greenville, in charge of the militia, during the absence of Adjt. Gen. Moore.

Later the governor called the entire Second Regiment of the National Guard under arms to await eventualities in Charleston.

The governor also ordered the Charleston board of control to close the dispensaries.

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

OFFICE OF

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1914, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 8, 1908.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 46, Article IV, of the Constitution.

Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section forty-six of article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly, after the first under this Constitution, shall continue longer than sixty days; but with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Except for the first session held under this Constitution, members shall be allowed a salary for not exceeding sixty days at any regular session, and for not exceeding thirty days at any extra session. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place nor for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly shall continue longer than ninety days, except that with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place, not for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 50 of Article IV of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment, and certifying the same to the next General Assembly.

1. Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section fifty of article four of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section fifty, article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated, prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house; and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or established a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, or discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax, which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.
